

MEMBERS OF FREEPORT High School National Honor Society volunteered their time to offer their assistance during the college fair.

3
FREEPORT HERALD - November 10, 2022

Photos courtesy Freeport Public Schools

College Fair at Freeport High School

Informative workshops and educational seminars for students and parents

Students and their families attending the Bound for College Fair and Workshops filled the gymnasium at Freeport High School on Oct. 19. The primary objective of the college fair was to provide students the chance to speak with college officials face-to-face and learn important details about the college application process, available financial aid, and NCAA athletic scholarship criteria. More than 80 colleges, universities, technical schools, and military organizations sent representatives.

"It was wonderful to see so many students and their families attending this year's college fair," said Director of Guidance Emma Perdomo. "This is a great opportunity for our students to focus on their career goals and to learn more about the college application process and how to successfully apply to colleges that will provide the education they need to achieve their goals."

Members of the schools National Honor Society were on hand to answer questions and aid fellow classmates as they made their way around the fair. Students and their families also attended a number of seminars as part of the college fair that covered topics including financial aid, how to save for college, NCAA and Athletic Scholarship Workshop, and preparing for the college process.

-Mohamed Farghaly

FREEPORT HIGH SCHOOL Principal Gisselle Campbell-Ham (left) along with Director of Guidance Emma Perdomo (third from left) along with members of the guidance department and staff made sure the college fair ran smoothly.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM NUMEROUS colleges, universities, and technical schools provided valuable information during Freeport High School's Bound for College Fair and Workshops.

FROM LEFT, FREEPORT High School Principal Gisselle Campbell-Ham, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Kishore Kuncham and Director of Guidance Emma Perdomo during the college fair.

WHAT'S NEWS IN AND OUT OF THE CLASSROOM

HERALD SCHOOLS

Firefighters captivate at Bayview Avenue School

For the 18th year, the third-grade students at Freeport Public Schools' Bayview Avenue School are participating in the Hooked on Firefighters program.

The program, which begins in the fall and concludes in the spring, is an exciting opportunity for the students. Each third-grade class is assigned a Freeport Village firefighter who will visit the classrooms throughout the year and teach students various lessons on fire safety and prevention through presentations, demonstrations and activities.

This year's program kicked off on Oct. 13 with students meeting their class firefighter, followed by a tour of a firetruck and all its components. Students were also able to ask questions and speak to their firefighter about all things related to fire safety.

The Bayview Avenue third graders will tour the Nassau County Firefighters Museum with the Freeport Village Fire Department in the spring, at the completion of the Hooked on Firefighters program.

-Mohamed Farghaly

Courtesy Freeport Public Schools

BAYVIEW AVENUE SCHOOL third grade students were introduced to members of the Freeport Fire Department during the school's 18th annual Hooked on Firefighters program kickoff.

DO YOU OR SOMEONE YOU KNOW NEED HELP?

Providing nutritious food is at the heart of Long Island Cares. But we also provide programs that help our communities thrive.

• GET HELP • GIVE BACK • GET INVOLVED
www.licares.org | 631.582.FOOD (3663)

- BETHPAGE
- HAMPTON BAYS
- HAUPPAUGE
- HUNTINGTON STATION
- FREEPORT
- LINDENHURST

Call or visit one of our locations near you!

- COMING SOON TO VALLEY STREAM -

